

Red Ink in Budget Seen by Nixon

By JAMES PHILLIPS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, conceding his predicted budget surpluses for this fiscal year and next have turned into red-ink deficits, has called for a tax on leaded gasoline to raise $1.6 billion a year more in government funds and fight pollution.

Other revenue increases to balance the budget will not be sought, said Budget Director Robert P. Mayo, because higher taxes "would be inappropriate when we have an increase in unemployment."

Another administration spokesman told Southern businessmen to forget about wage and price controls as a means of halting continuing inflation.

The announcements were made Tuesday as the administration sought to reassure investors and businessmen they can count on "a new steadiness of progress."

Nixon, who said in February a balanced budget was crucial to control inflation, said declining revenues and rising federal costs would result in a $1.8 billion deficit in the 1970 fiscal year ending June 30 and a $1.3 billion deficit for fiscal 1971.

Nixon had predicted a $1.5 billion surplus for the current fiscal year and a $1.3 billion surplus for the following fiscal year.

Sagging corporate profits were cited as the reason for the 1970 deficit.

Atty. Gen. John Mitchell, in a speech written for him at the White House, told the Delta Council in Cleveland, Miss., they can count on "a new steadiness of progress."

The stock market's sinking spells, he added, are "based on fears rather than facts." When asked about wage and price controls to stabilize the economy, Mitchell replied, "Forget about them."

Sen. Jacob Javits of New York, ranking Republican on the Senate-House Economic Committee, urged Nixon in a Senate speech Tuesday to pay more serious attention "to the urgent need for an incomes policy which would put more restraint" on wages, prices and interest rates.

Nixon said in a statement the administration remains "determined to curb inflation." But he added:

"Frankly, my concern about unemployment and my desire to bring about price stability without economic dislocation is why the campaign to control inflation cannot be accomplished quickly."

Tax revenues this fiscal year, Nixon said, are running about $3 billion below expectations.

Razorback Film Shown Kiwanians

Kiwanian Tom Ed Hays, Jr. had charge of the program at Tuesday's meeting of the local club.

He presented a football film 1969 Southwest Conference High Lights, in which the 1969 Razorbacks looked the champions that they are to all Arkansans. Except for the showing of two plays in the December 1969 "Shoot Out" between the Razorbacks and the Steers, the film was thoroughly enjoyed by the Kiwanians.

Guests at Tuesday's meeting were Mrs. Melvin Thrash, Ray Lawrence, David Moore, and Bill McKenzie all of Hope.

nounced whether he will seek the Republican nomination again, but conjecture has been strong that he will run for a third term.

Faubus defeated Rockefeller in the 1964 general election. Faubus, accompanied by his second wife, Elizabeth, said he had not decided when to formally file for office. He said, however, that it would not be today.

He said he had submitted his resignation as president of Recreational Enterprises, which operates the Dogpatch theme park near Harrison, and as president of the National Wildlife Club, a related enterprise.

Faubus said he was not sure that he could beat Rockefeller in the general election. He declined to assess his chances in the Democratic primary, but at one time said that he possibly could win the nomination without a runoff.

Faubus said Ted Boswell, a Bryant lawyer and potential candidate for the Democratic nomination could give him a great deal of difficulty if the Republicans did not hold a gubernatorial primary. Faubus said that if there is no GOP primary, he anticipated that Republicans would cross party lines to vote for Boswell.

Cuba Admits It Will Miss Sugar Goal

By THEODORE A. EDIGER
Associated Press Writer
MIAMI (AP) — Fidel Castro has admitted for the first time that he may not reach this year the record 10 million-ton sugar crop on which he repeatedly has staked the honor of his revolution.

Castro made the admission in a speech at a Havana welcome rally Tuesday night for the return of 11 Cuban fishermen who were kidnapped by U.S.-based exiles and later released. The broadcast speech was monitored in Miami.

The Cuban prime minister said his enemies had speculated that he was seeking an incident such as the fishermen kidnappings or recent exile guerrilla landings on which to blame sugar difficulties.

But he told cheering thousands in front of the former U.S. Embassy: "If the goal is not reached, we will have two things, a moral defeat without a doubt, and we will have to find among ourselves the blame and study with courage the causes."

Seated with Castro on a platform set up atop two trucks were the fishermen, just flown to Cuba from the Bahamas. They had been stranded on tiny William Island there after their capture in Cuban waters more than a week ago.

Alpha 66, an anti-Castro organization, held them hostage for some Alpha 66 men held captive inside Cuba, but released them after Castro spurned any exchange and the U.S. government expressed displeasure over the incident.

Castro blamed rains, equipment trouble at mills, low yield and other factors for falling behind schedule in the harvesting of his dollar-producing crop.

Castro's timetable called for 8 million tons by May 7. Havana Radio reported recently that the harvest still was short of 7.5 million.

Castro blamed the U.S. government for the capture of the fishermen, though not for the crop shortfall.

Citing U.S. campus and racial strife, Castro said: "There are already those who are talking in the United States about the possibility of a revolution."

President Nixon "reminds us of Hitler," said Castro. "When he made the decision to invade Cambodia, he did not advise Cambodia, he did not even advise his own government."

GRADUATION

home?"

Several colleges and universities have cancelled social events connected with commencement.

The Peace Commencement Fund, a movement to have graduates contribute the money ordinarily spent on renting graduation caps and gowns, to congressional peace candidates, said the plan had spread to more than 150 campuses.

At Yale University, where the movement began, sponsors said it has the support of between 50 and 70 per cent of Yale's graduating class. Sponsors said they hoped to raise $1 million.

The senior class at Worcester Academy, a prep school in Worcester, Mass., voted to forgo a class prom and use the $500 to set up a "Scholarship for Peace."

The nationwide student protests began 19 days ago in the wake of President Nixon's decision to send American combat troops into Cambodia.

The protests were fueled by the shooting deaths at Kent State and Jackson State and the killing of six blacks in Augusta, Ga.

The president of Jackson State, Dr. John A. Peoples, was one of 15 heads of black universities and colleges invited to meet with Nixon today to discuss problems at their schools.

The White House said the request for the meeting was filed before the trouble at Jackson, but after six black youths were killed in Augusta, Ga., when police used gunfire to quell rioting. The disorder developed when it was learned that a 16-year-old black youth had been beaten to death in a local jail.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, has announced that he has chartered a plane to take congressional, student, labor and business leaders to Jackson Friday for the funeral of the two campus victims.

Lots of Bread

In the United States about one-third of each year's wheat crop is milled into flour, from which about 15.5 billion pounds of bread are produced—90 per cent of it enriched bread, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

sored by Sens. John Sherman Cooper and Frank Church, delay a vote "it will hold up legislation in which the administration is interested, appropriations and the like."

Republican Leader Hugh Scott was reported by aides to be engaged in "very delicate" negotiations in efforts to find a compromise that would water down the Cooper-Church proposal, which would bar funds for "retaining" U.S. forces in Cambodia.

The Associated Press lists 47 senators in favor of Cooper-Church, five others leaning in favor, and 34 opposed with the rest undecided.

A basic problem in devising a compromise is that all of the possibilities suggested so far give authority to the President to order U.S. troops into Cambodia, or Laos, or Thailand, or all of them, if needed to protect U.S. forces in South Vietnam.

Since this was the stated purpose of the current operation in Cambodia, those opposed to it are unwilling to go along with any such authorization.

UN Rebuke Rejected by Israel

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Israel has rejected a U.N. Security Council condemnation of its biggest raid yet into Lebanon, saying it will continue to retaliate against Arab attacks.

The council approved a resolution Tuesday night sharply rebuking Israel for the attack May 12 on Arab guerrilla bases in the foothills of Mt. Hermon. The Israelis said they killed 30 guerrillas and captured 15 in the 32-hour operation.

The resolution, declaring that such attacks could "no longer be tolerated," was approved 11-0. The United States, Colombia, Nicaragua and Sierra Leone abstained.

It was the council's eighth warning to Israel since March 1968. The resolution said Israel had carried out "a premeditated military action in violation of its obligations" under the U.N. Charter and that the council would "consider taking adequate and effective steps or measures in accordance with the relevant articles of the Charter to implement its resolutions."

Such steps could include economic sanctions or political or military action.

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Teikoah called the resolution one-sided and declared that Israel reserve its right to hit back at all Arab guerrilla strikes.

now are operating inside Cambodia along a 600-mile stretch of border.

At the southern end of the frontier, a task force of more than 10,000 South Vietnamese troops with armored cars, gunboats and U.S. warplanes in support, pushed deeper into southern Cambodia today after smashing a North Vietnamese base camp and sampan fleet.

South Vietnamese military headquarters announced.

In a drive launched Sunday, the big land and river force is trying to destroy base camps from which the North Vietnamese 1st Infantry Division attacks South Vietnam's southernmost provinces and the sampans in which it moves about the delta area's network of rivers and canals.

The three-prong force is moving northward, along Highways 2 and 3 and the Bassac River, from the southernmost stretch of the Vietnamese-Cambodian border between Ha Tien and Tinh Bien.

A South Vietnamese communiqué said 96 North Vietnamese soldiers were killed Tuesday and 100 sampans and 30 storage huts were destroyed.

Eight South Vietnamese troops were reported killed and 25 wounded.

The major part of the task force was reported about 35 miles south of Phnom Penh, midway between the Cambodian capital and the border. It was not known how far north the South Vietnamese planned to go.

The Cambodian army on Tuesday was reported battling Viet Cong and North Vietnamese platoons about 12 miles farther north on Highway 3.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. DOYLE LEE BROWN

In the chapel of University Baptist Church, Abilene, Texas May 17, wedding vows were exchanged by Dian Lache Jennings and AIC Doyle Lee Brown. Dr. John De Foore was the minister.
The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jennings of 2133 Briarwood, Abilene and the groom is the son of Mrs. Jack Brown and the late Mr. Brown of Hope.
Candles were lighted by Denise and Deborah Jennings, sisters of the bride.
Mr. Jennings presented his daughter in marriage.
The bride's gown was of hand clipped imported Chantilly lace with seed pearls on the scalloped neckline, and the same scalloped edged the short sleeves. The empire bodice topped a semi-A-line skirt with scalloped hem line and bouffant chapel train. A queen crown of pearls and lace held the veil of silk illusion.
The bride's attendants, Mrs. Sharon Netzey, Abilene and Linda Lowrie, Austin, cousin of the bride, wore identical gowns of white lace over pink taffeta, an empire waist trimmed in pink satin with back interest of pleated nylon chiffon. Their head dress was of pink illusion held by one large pink rose.
The flower girl was Dana Wright and the ring bearer was Bill Anderson.
The groom's attendants were Travis Smith, bestman, and Dewayne Jennings, brother of the bride as groomsman. Ronny Brown of Hope, brother of the groom and Douglas Lowrie, Austin, cousin of the bride were ushers.
During the ceremony nuptial music was presented by Beverley Condray, organist and Miss Debbie Gray, soloist.
Reception was held in fellowship hall.
On Sat. May 16, a rehearsal dinner was given by Mrs. Brown at Lavendar's Cafeteria. The bride and groom chose, this time to present gifts to their attendants.

LET SLEEPING DOGS LIE
Dear Helen: We were married when my husband was 26, so I know he has been around. He isn't exactly the "monk" type. But he has never once mentioned a former girl friend. He doesn't ask me about my past either, but then he knows I never had one.
How much should a wife know about her husband's previous sex experiences, and if he doesn't volunteer, should she ask?—CURIOUS
Dear Curious: Don't ask! Anything a wife learns about her husband's past girl friends is more than she really wants to know. If some were dolls, she'll be forever competing, and if all were "dogs," his stock will go down in her eyes. So let sleeping canines lie.—H.
Dear Helen: Isn't this just like a man? The morning after our wedding, I asked my new husband to kiss me and you know what he answered? "Madam, I NEVER kiss married women!"—HAPPY
Dear Helen: I am a divorced man and have two sons living with me. The youngest is 17, a senior in high school.
During the past winter he got friendly with the two girls next door, as they needed help getting their car out of the snow. The younger has a steady boy friend, but the older 23 (a teacher), is unattached, though she dates around a lot.
My son has started going over there frequently when the teacher is alone, as he says she helps him with his math.
He has a steady girl friend, a little younger than himself. She doesn't seem to mind.
This older woman seems very sensible, but I wonder, could these visits lead to complications?—ART
Dear Art: If your son's girl friend isn't concerned about this friendship, I don't think you need worry. She'd spot a threat long before it became a complication.—H.
Dear Helen: I have never written to a columnist before, but I feel compelled to answer "M.T." who learned, after 14 years of marriage, that her husband was a chaser.
Last year, on my 33rd wedding anniversary, I found out the same thing. The shock and disbelief were as great as M.T.'s, but later on I realized you don't die from deceit. I survived, and so will she though she doesn't think so now.
The answer is: Face facts. She and I and a lot of others endowed our husbands with qualities they didn't have. When we found they were liars and cheats it was a terrible blow, but they're not worth destroying ourselves over.
So, M.T.: Take stock of what you have: His home, his children, his charge accounts and—don't forget—his insurance. Force yourself to smile. Act the way you want to be and pretty soon you will the way you act.
My husband tells me he loves me and I think he does. But in the foolish 50s he's unable to leave pretty young things alone. He buys them gifts, but he doesn't deny me material things. It could be worse—and this better than divorce, for if you marry again, you're only exchanging one set of faults for another.
Every child deserves ONE good parent, so M.T., don't be a weepy mother, or your children too will have scars. Make the best of what you have and remember happiness lies many different roads. If you can't have all of your husband all the time, well, remember some people have to live without arms and legs. And maybe some day he'll grow up!—SLIGHT REJECT

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A few seasons back, CBS was very high on a documentary quiz show it developed. It permitted the viewer to participate actively, was shot full of statistics and results of polls and asked a lot of true-or-false questions about a single subject.
The first show, about driving a car, was a hit and a novelty, but the ones that followed, about health and citizenship, were a bit of a drag. They were cluttered and complicated, attracted small audiences and the network seemed to have lost interest in them.
The form was revived Tuesday night as a device by which the network was able to pull together much of the frightening knowledge about our environmental pollution. This viewer, after all the television ads on the subject, scored very high—as would almost any concerned and literate citizen.
The hour-long program used photographic illustrations, cartoons and graphs to set up the bases for the questions. The subject matter ranged from the well known facts about air contamination caused by burning fuels to the possible ecological consequences of building a replacement for the Panama Canal which would mingle the waters of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.
It was, as all such programs are, a depressing program. But television has been in the vanguard of the antipollution problems, and some of its programs like "Who Killed Lake Erie?" obviously have helped alert the public.
While television is extraordinarily effective in handling a subject like pollution—something that a camera's eye can see—the networks have not yet found a satisfactory way of handling a subject like economics and finance.
While it is dramatic to show

Just Odd Is Name of Grid Pro

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The news from the world of pro football these days generally concerns trades, signings of draft choices, blarney about players making movies, talking about retiring, and so forth.

But one of the most intriguing bits to pop up about pigskin professionals comes from Canada. And what it's about is Odd.

The Edmonton Eskimos of the Canadian Football League have signed a player who never played the sport before. And if the fellow turns out to be another Jan Stenerud, it would be Just Odd.

Stenerud, you'll recall, is the ex-Norwegian skier who went to the University of Wyoming, somehow attracted the attention of football Coach Lloyd Eaton and became a soccer-style placekicking expert.

Jan gained football fame, however, by kicking three field goals for Kansas City at New Orleans in January when the Chiefs defeated the Minnesota Vikings 23-7 in the Super Bowl.

It was thought this would produce a rush to Norway's ski slopes by pro football talent scouts. It's Just Odd, however, that the first skier would be placekicker since Stenerud comes from the University of Wyoming.

His name, would you believe is JusOdd Michaelson. He's also from Norway. Just Odd attended yomping on a ski scholarship while watching the football team work out, he told Eaton he would kick. Just Odd was 26, however, and under Western Athletic Conference rules couldn't play football.

Anyv, Ray Jauch, coach of the Eskimos, traveled to Wyoming, took a look at Just Odd's kicking and Edmonton announced signing of Michaelson today.

Back the American football scene, here were these other developments:

— B. Adderley said in Philadelphia he'll retire rather than play this season with the Green Bay Packers. To do so, said Arley, one of the top defensive backs of the National Football League the past nine years, would be "a mental impossibility."

— Addie said there was no truth to reports he and Green Bay P. Phil Bengtson had reached understanding.

— Addie disclosed he has a chance to make a movie star. "Not a big part a start. The movie starts 5."

— Jamath, who's making

h Schalk, Keball's 'eat,' Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — Ray "Crat Schalk, the brilliant defenc catcher who made baseball Hall of Fame despite a .253 batting average of .253, of cancer Tuesday. He was 7.

Schalk came to the Hall of Fame in 1955, led American League catchers defensively eight times between 1913 and 1922 caught 100 or more games in 12 years. He caught a total of 12 major league games.

He led for the Chicago White Sox from 1912 until 1926 and managed the club in 1927 and 1928, finished his career as a player with the New York Giants in 1929.

Schalk said his thrill to being in the Hall of Fame was led only by his sudden introduction to the major league.

He bought him from Milwaukee, 10, 1912. The very next "I took the street car out to ball park and a few minutes before the first game of a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Athletics, Manager Jimmy Gahan put a ball in my hand," said "Son, you're catch Doc White today."

"I can't even have a chance to get a ball. We got beat 3-1 by Chicago."

Schalk made three assists in one game, a record later equaled by Bill Dickey of the New York Yankees. He played in the 1917 World Series and also with the Cleveland Indians in the 1919 World Series. Schalk was one of the players not involved in the deal.

Players to Be Called in Flood Suit

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Curt Flood's starting line-up in his suit against baseball likely will include several other former players, a source close to the former St. Louis outfielder told The Associated Press today.

While the source said he was unable to divulge the names of any prospective witnesses, the name of Satchel Paige, the great black pitcher who last hurled for the Atlanta Braves did appear on a courtroom listing of people who might either be called or mentioned during the trial.

It is assumed that any former players called in support of Flood would document their dealings in baseball within the framework of the controversial reserve system, which Flood is challenging in the unique case being heard in U.S. District Court here.

Both the plaintiff—Flood—and the defendants—baseball—had a day off today to continue to plot their strategy for the resumption of proceedings Thursday following an opening session in which an obviously tense Flood testified.

The one-time $90,000-a-year outfielder appeared ill-at-ease on the witness stand, was admonished by Judge Irving Ben Cooper for not answering questions properly and needed a baseball bunting card to refresh his memory on his own batting averages.

But his attorney, Arthur Goldberg, former U.S. Supreme Court justice and now a New York state gubernatorial candidate, did lead Flood and Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, through testimony vital to the plaintiff's case.

From Flood, Goldberg elicited the response that he decided to bring suit against baseball after being traded by St. Louis to Philadelphia because "I didn't think I should be traded and treated like a piece of property."

From Miller, Goldberg elicited the response that in his admittedly expert opinion the reserve system "is unnecessarily restrictive . . . and can be modified in a manner to serve the players, the owners and the fans."

But Flood, the good-looking black athlete who currently is making a living off his photographic studios and his work as a portrait artist, was the man in the spotlight as he hunched forward in the green leather witness chair and traced his long baseball career.

During that testimony, he made the points that he was not consulted either of the two times he was traded in the majors and that his refusal to join the Phillies had to do with the principle of being traded without his consent rather than money.

"I didn't want to move my businesses and family to another part of the United States," Flood explained. He also answered "no" when asked by Goldberg if he would play for another club at a higher salary if he were traded without his consent by the Phillies.

Flood, in his suit, contends that the system operates in restraint of trade and therefore violates federal antitrust laws. His case is unique because it marks the first time the merits of the reserve system are being argued in court.

Record Field for U.S. Open

NEW YORK (AP) — For the fifth straight year a record field has entered the U.S. Open Golf Tournament, set for June 18-21 at Chaska, Minn.

Only 34 of the 3,642 golfers are exempt from the qualifying rounds. Most of those who must qualify will play 36-hole rounds on either Monday, May 25 or Tuesday, May 26 at 55 locations.

The 665 survivors of the local qualifying rounds then will join 57 others who were exempted only from the preliminary trials in 13 sectional qualifying championships, Monday, June 8 or Tuesday, June 9.

Last year was the previous high when 3,397 enrolled for the Open.

Many tour members of the Professional Golfers Association will try to qualify May 26 at Memphis where 52 spots are available for 132 players.

Among the totally exempt are Orville Moody, the 1969 Open winner, and the Open champions since 1965—Gary Player,

THE JACK AND ARNIE SHOW is on the road again, with the usual range of expressions. In this case, Nicklaus (left) is the grimacer, Palmer the quizzical one.

Greenwood Beats Hardy in Tourney

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Ronnie Brown struck out 15 and scattered three hits as Greenwood defeated Hardy Highland 4-1 Tuesday night in the state high school baseball tournament.

In other first round action, Gillett clobbered Carthage 14-4, Watson Chapel edged Bay 10-9 and Mountain Home whipped Nashville 9-0.

Brown chalked up his 15 strikeouts in seven innings. Charlie Gordon homered for the winners.

Charles Hesser struck out 12 and drove in four runs with three hits to pace Gillett. Harold Reed also had three hits and drove in five runs. Gillett trailed 2-0 early, but scored five runs in the second inning and coasted to the victory.

Roy Farrell's two-run single capped a five-run rally in the final inning and carried Watson Chapel to victory.

Phillip Arnold pitched a three-hitter for Mountain Home and Gary Pitts drove in two runs for the Bombers.

Today's schedule: Junction City vs. Greene County Tech, 1 p.m.; Brookland vs. Little Rock Catholic, 3 p.m.; Watson Chapel vs. Mountain Home, 6:30 p.m. and Greenwood vs. Gillett, 8:30 p.m.

nia, 55; Alou, Oakland, 50.

DOUBLES — F. Alou, Oakland, 13; Harper, Milwaukee, 12.

TRIPLES — Tovar, Minnesota, 5; 9 tied with 3.

HOME RUNS — F. Howard, Washington, 12; Killebrew, Minnesota, 12.

STOLEN BASES — Harper, Milwaukee, 17; P. Kelly, Kansas City, 15.

PITCHING (4 Decisions) — Tiant, Minnesota, 5.0, 1,000, 3.21; McNally, Baltimore, 7.1, .875, 3.61.

STRIKEOUTS — McDowell, Cleveland, 79; Lolich, Detroit, 67.

Los Angeles stayed with the Pacers until the score stood 85-83 with 4:50 remaining in the third period. By then the lead had changed hands 11 times.

Then Brown bombed in a 26-footer and Atlanta went on a spree. They outscored the Stars 23-11 and took a 108-94 lead into the fourth quarter.

Indiana had six men in double figures with Bob Netolicky's 18 points following Brown. Freddie Lewis had 17, Bill Keller 16, Mel Daniels with 14 and a dozen rebounds, and Art Becker 11.

Andy Anderson led the Stars with 20 and six others on the losing club were in double figures. Raymond and George Stone each collected 19.

Going back to Indianapolis, Sharman commented, "It will be tough but we won three in a row from Dallas and four in a row from Denver and it's not unprecedented."

Leonard said he made no special defensive changes after losing 109-106 Monday night, adding, "We just got it together. Our defense just fell apart in that third game and I told them to just go out and play."

Both clubs showed the effect of three games in as many nights although neither coach made much of a point of it.

The playoff battle drew a crowd of 7,027 to the Anaheim Convention Center, the largest throng to see a Stars "home" game this season.

Athletic Heads Quit at Iowa

By WILLIAM L. EBERLINE
IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — The University of Iowa was ostensibly without an athletic director and a head football coach today, leaving the Big Ten Conference school in a wobbly situation for next fall's gridiron campaign.

A four-month feud in the department came to a head Tuesday when the Board in Control of Athletics accepted Athletic Director Forest Evashevski's resignation and relieved football Coach Ray Nagel of his duties, both effective June 30.

Prof. Sam Fahr, board chairman, said a search already has been started for a successor to Evashevski. He made no mention of finding a successor to Nagel. Presumably that would be left up to the new athletic director.

Nagel, however, said he could not accept the decision of the board.

"It is my basic position," he said, "that I have a valid and binding contract as head football coach at Iowa until Dec. 31, 1970, and I expect to carry out this contract."

Nagel has scheduled a press conference for 2 p.m. today at the Iowa fieldhouse.

The board said it took its decision with reluctance and praised both men.

Evashevski, 52, came to Iowa in 1952 and boosted the Hawkeyes to a national football powerhouse.

His record as a coach from 1952-1960 was 52-27-1, best in Iowa history. His 1957 and 1959 teams won Rose Bowl championships.

Nagel came to Iowa from the University of Utah in 1966. His teams in four years have had a 13-26-1 record, but he has just come off two 5-5 seasons and had high hopes for the coming year.

Dissension simmered through the football season last fall, and erupted after the last game with the firing of Gary Grounkel, a close friend of Evashevski and Arnold Palmer also is among those who won't have to qualify.

Big Names Favored in PGA Tour

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Daino, the breezy British Open champion returned to the American tour this week and immediately moved into a slot as one of the favorites for the Tournament of Champions four weeks ago, faces his major challenge for the $25,000 first place check from the awesome Big Three—Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player.

The American big Three, playing together for the first time in three weeks and, as always, draw the major portion of the gallery. Nicklaus and Player both have won this year and Player is second on the money winning list. Palmer hasn't won but has been second twice and appears to be playing very well. He has been off the tour for four weeks.

All three were expected to arrive today. The 72-hole test begins Thursday on the extremely tough Atlanta Country Club course, a 7,053-yard layout that is giving PGA officials some problems.

The fairways have suffered from a severe winter and are bare in spots. Officials are considering lining landing areas on the fairways and allowing free drops.

Pete Brown, the winner at the San Diego Open, and Mac McLendon were late withdrawals; Brown with a back injury and McLendon with an ailing shoulder.

Also among the missing from the 144-man field are Masters champion Billy Casper, leading money winner Lee Trevino and Gene Littler who tied Trevino for second in last week's Colonial Invitational.

Trevino and Casper are the only multiple winners on the tour this year. Even with their absence however, the field is very strong. Some of the leading contenders include defending champion Bert Yancey, Homero Blancas, winner of the Colonial, U.S. Open titleholder Orville Moody and PGA champ Floyd Little.

Dates Set for Turkey Hunt

The length of each of the hunting periods will be determined each year and will be based on the crop of turkeys available for hunting.

Chris Short Hurls Phils to Victory

By TOM SALADINO

Associated Press Sports Writer
Two hours of surgery was necessary last June to put Chris Short back together again, exactly the same amount of time it took the slick Philadelphia southpaw to operate on Pittsburgh and get the Phillies in working order again.

Both operations were successful—the first, last June 13 was needed to remove a herniated disc from Short's back—and the latest, performed Tuesday night, helped the Phils snap a 10-game losing string.

The strapping 6-foot-4, 215-pounder limited the powerful Pirates to four scattered hits while walking none and striking out 10 in the Phils' 2-0 triumph.

In other NL action, New York socked Montreal 7-4, Cincinnati downed Chicago 3-1, St. Louis trounced Houston 12-2, Los Angeles routed San Diego 8-3 and Atlanta downed San Francisco 4-1.

In the American League, Milwaukee drilled Oakland 6-3, Minnesota nipped Kansas City 5-1 in 10 innings, California blanked Chicago 3-0, Baltimore drubbed New York 5-1 and Boston edged Detroit 5-4.

The 33-year-old Short, a 20-game winner in 1966, captured 19 games in 1968 before suffering the painful back injury which sidelined the 10-year veteran for all but 10 innings last season.

A two-time All-Star, Short has won 119 contests in his major league career and is now 3-4 for the season.

"I had a better fastball tonight than I can remember," Short said. "Everything I was throwing went right where I wanted it to go."

Short got all the support he needed in the opening inning when Deron Johnson drove in John Briggs with a single. The Phils added a run in the second as Larry Bowa reached on a forceout, stole second, moved to third on a wild pitch by loser Dock Ellis, 2-4, and stole home.

The Mets cracked five home runs, a pair by Tommie Agee and one apiece from Ron Swoboda, Cleon Jones and Don Clendenon in slamming the Expos and gaining a virtual first-place tie with the Cubs in the NL East. Chicago is ahead of New York by one percentage point.

Montreal added a pair of homers to the slugfest, a two-run shot by Adolfo Phillips and a solo blast by John Bocabella.

Bernie Carbo's seventh inning two-run triple followed by Tommy Helms' single gave the Reds

Traveler's Make It 3 Straight

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Jose Cruz drove in two runs, one on a long home run to left, as the Arkansas Travelers defeated San Antonio 5-1 in Texas League action Tuesday night.

The victory was the Trav's third in four games in this series and seventh in eight games against San Antonio this season.

Alex Distaso was the principal recipient of Traveler fury Tuesday as the shaky Mission struggled through four innings and allowed two runs before being jerked for a pinch hitter.

Distaso's major problem was control — he walked five and hit a batter.

The Missions notched their run in the second when Jim Brunette walked, took second on a wild pitch by Arkansas pitcher Al Hrabowsky and scored home on Roger Dettler's single to right.

Shreveport completed a three-game sweep of Eastern Division leader Memphis with a 2-1 victory in 10 innings at Shreveport Tuesday night.

In other Texas League action, Dallas-Fort Worth blanked Amarillo 7-0 and El Paso edged Albuquerque 3-2.

Twins and Brewers Are Winners

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
With Rod Carew in perpetual motion and Tommy Harper back on the run, the Minnesota Twins and Milwaukee Brewers are making rapid progress at opposite ends of the American League West.

Carew, the league's hottest hitter, beat out a punt in the 10th inning Tuesday night and, moments later, sprinted home on a wild pitch to give the division-leading Twins a 5-4 nod over Kansas City.

The Twins' sixth straight victory kept them one-half game ahead of the second place California Angels, who trimmed the Chicago White Sox 3-0 on Rudy May's two-hitter.

Harper, Milwaukee's 1969 base-stealing king, returned from a two-game injury layoff to rip four hits, including a home run, and pick up his 17th theft as the Brewers beat Oakland 6-3.

Their seventh triumph in 10 games, coupled with Kansas City's first loss in eight extra-inning contests, brought the last-place Brewers within half a length of the Royals.

Elsewhere, Baltimore's East Division leaders downed the New York Yankees 5-1; Boston shaded Detroit 5-4 and Washington topped Cleveland 3-1.

In the National League, the New York Mets slugged Montreal 7-4; St. Louis battered Houston 12-3; Cincinnati defeated the Chicago Cubs 3-1; Philadelphia blanked Pittsburgh 2-0; Los Angeles pounded San Diego 8-3 and Atlanta tripped San Francisco 4-2.

Carew, the defending AL batting champ, went into Tuesday night's game on a 15-for-23 tear which had hiked his average to .419—tops in the majors.

"If I can punt for a hit now and then, I don't see why I shouldn't," he had said the previous night after collecting three hits, including a punt single, against the Reds. "As long as I can lay the ball down I'll keep doing it."

The swift second baseman did just that in the 10th against Kansas City reliever Tom Burgmeier after going 0-for-3 in regulation play. He outlegged a punt toward third, took second on another safe punt by Tony Oliva, moved to third on a long fly out and then tallied the winning run when Burgmeier, recalled from the minors earlier in the day, uncorked a wild pitch.

The Twins had tied the game on Cesar Tovar's run-scoring single in the ninth. Bob Oliver drove in all the Royals' runs with a first inning homer and eighth inning single.

May gave up a second inning single by Ken Berry and then held the White Sox hitless until the ninth, when Walt Williams singled. The Angels' southpaw struck out 10 and retired 19 straight batters in one stretch on the way to his third victory in five decisions. Roger Repoz drove in two California runs with a homer and double.

Harper, who had missed two games against Minnesota with jammed left thumb, cracked a single, two doubles and his third homer as the Brewers subdued the A's behind left-hander John Morris. Harper, who scored twice, paces the AL in doubles, with 12, and stolen bases.

Jim Palmer stopped the Yankees on four hits while Frank Robinson and Boog Powell each knocked in two runs for Baltimore. Robinson drilled two doubles and a single, raising his average to .395, and Powell contributed a single and his 11th homer.

Tony Conigliaro's third hit, a bases-loaded single off the left field wall in the ninth, carried the Red Sox past the Tigers, who have dropped six in a row. Carl Yastrzemski homered for the winners and Norm Cash smacked a two-run homer for Detroit.

Washington managed just three hits against the Indians, but one of them was a three-run homer by Ed Stroud, enabling Joe Coleman to beat Barry Moore in a tight mound duel. Coleman held the Indians hitless over the last six innings, finishing with a five-hitter.

Review of Lincoln High FHA Work

The FHA Chapter of Lincoln High School, Washington, Arkansas has demonstrated through its various activities that it is proud and grateful of the organization. There has existed a fine cooperative spirit among all girls.

Early in the year the chapter got off to a good start, with each member being responsible for making our chapter, GO, GROW, and GLOW.

Monthly a birthday gift was won by an FHA'er born in that month. Also a door prize was won by a girl and faculty member. The gifts ranged among such items as, cookie jars, glasses, candy bowls, flower vases, electric gravy bowls, brush sets and umbrellas.

In December the girls of home-making III presented an original Christmas skit which was very appropriate and well-presented. The department was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The girls displayed their artistic abilities. The girls served punch, cookies, candies, open face sandwiches and tiddbits.

Another interesting activity was the March activity. The girls of Home-making I were in charge. This group presented an original skit written by our advisor, titled "Father's Easter Hat" the girls decorated old hats with ribbons, bows and flowers which made them very colorful. Their entire program was enjoyable. "The Easter Egg Tree", was the center of attraction.

Homemaking girls II, wrote essays on the title "Why I Think We Are The Most Wasteful Nation in The World."

The adult class was very successful.

The last meeting was the installation ceremony of 1970-71 officers, as follows:

President, Sherlyn Hearon.
Vice-President, Linda Watson.
1st Vice - President, Patsy Booker.
2nd Vice-President Diann Walker.
3rd Vice - President, Joyce Scott.

'Rabbits' of Golf Despise Mondays

ATLANTA (AP) — That was the joyous shout sent up when young Larry Hinson scored his first pro golf tour victory in the New Orleans Open last year.

That was the joyous shout sent up when young Larry Hinson scored his first pro golf tour victory in the New Orleans Open last year.

"I'd gladly pay $40,000 to skip those Mondays," Bob Menne ruefully admitted after he'd lost in a playoff to Lee Trevino for the title and the $40,000 first prize for this year's National Airlines Open. "But," he continued, "You can't buy your way out here."

To understand the problems of the pro golf tour—and it has problems despite this era of vastly increasing purses and prize money—it is necessary to investigate some of the inner workings, some of the mechanics and systems whereby players become eligible to compete in the lucrative events.

Mondays play a key part. It's on Monday that the so-called "rabbits" have to tee it up in an attempt to qualify for a spot in the field for the tournament proper.

One bad shot and it's all over. They've lost their chance to play for another week. Ask them what they shot and they'll reply: "Down the Road." That's down the road to the next tournament and another Monday and another attempt to join the ranks of the money makers.

Most of the players generally known to the public are exempt from qualifying one way or another.

Invitational tournaments and certain other events, such as the Masters and the U.S. Open, have their own formats for qualifications and exemptions and do not necessarily follow the same system.

The normal open tournament has a field of 144. After two rounds the field is cut to the low 70 scorers and ties for the 70th position. All who finish that tournament—all who make the cut—are eligible for the next regular tour event.

All former U.S. Open and PGA champions have lifetime exemptions.

All tournament winners of the last 12 months are exempt.

Members of the current Ryder Cup team are exempt.

The top 60 money winners for the last calendar year are exempt. (A point system has been instituted this year to replace the money list as a method of determining exemptions.)

All former champions of that particular event are exempt. That is, all former champions of the Memphis Open have a lifetime exemption to the Memphis Open.

The top 25 finishers in that tournament from the previous year are exempt.

And the top money winners from the last five years are exempt.

That usually adds up to about 120 or 130 players for each tournament who are exempt from qualifying. The rest of them have to tee it up on Monday in an 18 hole qualifying event.

With about 250-300 players on the tour on a regular basis, it's simple arithmetic to determine that there are about 130-180 players competing for 15-25 spots each Monday.

The 15-25 players who make it are in. They've got a chance (1) to fight to make the cut at the end of Friday's round, then (2) to fight Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus and Billy Casper and Gary Player and the other giants for the money.

The two major methods of gaining an exemption for the qualifiers are through making the top 60 money list or making the cut in the previous tournament.

"Monday qualifying is the hardest thing there is to do out here," said Bert Greene, who only recently graduated from those ranks. "You're so keyed up trying to qualify you almost have a let-down when the tournament comes along."

"Then you get charged up to make the cut. If you do that, your drained by the time the last two rounds come up."

"When you're exempt you don't have to worry about Monday. And you don't have to worry that much about making the cut, since you're going to play next week anyhow. You just worry about playing your game and trying to make a good check."

For the 115-165 players who don't make it beyond the qualifying round, well, there's no money coming. They don't make a dime. There's expenses to pay and entry fees and caddy fees and nothing to do but get

This is your newspaper. Write to it. Address letters to: Editor The Star, P.O. Box 648, Hope, Ark. 71801.

All letters must be signed, with address, so you are identified to the newspaper staff, but if the character of the letter permits we will allow use of a pen-name in the publication, in which case you should add "Citizen," or some other word below your real name and address.

Pen-names are permitted when a letter deals only with issues. Direct attacks upon public officials, however, must bear the writer's name for publication.

ON FOREIGN POLICY
Editor The Star: Your editorial of May 13 is an excellent presentation of what the hawks are trying to do to President Nixon. They want to annihilate him through rebellion on the campuses and the marching for or against any and everything. Your mention of the General MacArthur - President Truman controversy is so indelibly stamped on my mind that it is as if it happened only yesterday. If those Manchus flowing out of Russian Communist Siberia had been annihilated by our air force it is quite probable the course of history would have been changed — no Korean war, no Communist China.

Who stood on the floor of the Senate and said:
"The Manchus are only educated agrarians come down to China to teach the Chinese better methods of agriculture?"

Hearing for Rioting Ministers

AUGUSTA, Ark. (AP) — The cases of three Negro ministers charged with disturbing the peace and shooting firearms from a highway are to be heard next Tuesday in Municipal Court here.

The cases were to have been heard Tuesday but the defendants asked that the case be continued, saying their attorney, John Lavey of Little Rock, was in court in Marianna.

The defendants are the Revs. Cato Brooks of Little Rock, La-verne Swain of North Little Rock and Roy Laird of Cotton Plant. Each is free on $100 bond.

Judge James Daugherty said Lavey had been properly notified of the hearing and ordered the attorney to appear in court next Tuesday to show cause why he should not be held in contempt for failing to appear at Tuesday's hearing.

Prosecutor Ed Bethune said the court heard the state's witnesses in the case Tuesday.

Gamblers Anonymous Helps Compulsive Ones Break Habit

By KENT STURGIS
Associated Press Writer
SEATTLE (AP) — Ex-gambler Terry X says his last big gamble—on the organization called Gamblers Anonymous—has paid off.

Terry, now 38, went to GA in 1963 straight from a San Francisco bridge where he had contemplated a suicide leap.

He received a GA five-year pin Tuesday night, signifying abstinence from such things as dice, poker and horse racing for half a decade.

Terry said in an interview he had been a compulsive gambler from boyhood, had been alienated from his family, divorced by his wife and was fresh from a prison term for embezzlement and writing bad checks when he decided to give GA a try.

Now he is one of 20 or so regulars who attend weekly GA meetings at a Seattle church.

The members share their experiences in an effort to turn others away from gambling. The chapter is part of a Los Angeles based national organization which took its cue from Alcoholics Anonymous.

Terry described the typical compulsive gambler as a pathological liar with a personality flaw which may embody a masochistic desire to lose.

"Sooner or later he'll run afoul of the law, brought on by the fact he needs money," Terry said. "Our job is to start him on the business of growing up."

"Numerically, we're not a smashing success. But some people in our group have come back from the brink of disaster."

Terry himself, for example, has remarried his former wife and become a successful equipment salesman. He said that although he is cured of gambling he still attends GA meetings as a "labor of love."

"If I got out of the influence of the group," he said, "I might start gambling again. But don't bet on it."

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION

Notice is hereby given that a special election will be held in the City of Hope, Arkansas ("City") on the 23rd day of June, 1970, at which there will be submitted to the electors of the City the question of issuing City of Hope, Arkansas Industrial Development Revenue Bonds ("bonds") under Act No. 9 of the First Extraordinary Session of the Sixty-Second General Assembly of the State of Arkansas, approved January 21, 1960, as amended ("Act No. 9"), in the aggregate principal amount of not to exceed $250,000 for the purpose of furnishing the permanent financing of the cost of securing and developing industry. The bonds will be dated, will bear interest at such rate or rates, interest will be payable on such dates, the bonds will mature on such date or dates, the bonds will be subject to redemption prior to maturity in such manner and upon such terms, and the bonds will be issued at one time or in series from time to time, all as the Board of Directors of the City of Hope, Arkansas, shall subsequently determine and specify in the ordinance authorizing their issuance. The proposed industrial project will consist of an expansion of the industrial plant operated by Meyer's Bakery of Little Rock, Inc., an Arkansas corporation (called "Meyer") embodying lands, buildings, improvements and facilities (the "Project") and the proceeds of the bonds will be used for the financing of the Project costs, expenses and expenditures in connection therewith and the expenses of the financing. The Project will be leased to Meyer for lease rentals sufficient to provide for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds as the same become due. All obligations of Meyer will be unconditionally guaranteed by Meyer's Bakeries, Inc. The bonds will not be general obligations of the City but will be special obligations payable solely from revenues derived from the Project including particularly lease rentals under the Lease Agreement with Meyer, which will be specifically pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds, and the bonds will be secured by a lien on and security interest in the Project as authorized by and in accordance with Act No. 9.

Only qualified electors of the City of Hope, Arkansas, will have the right to vote and the electors may vote either for or against the issuance of the bonds.

The election will be held between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. at the following polling places in the City of Hope, Arkansas, to wit:

Box 1-A, Box 1-B, Box 1-C, and Box 1-D, all at Hope Fire Station,
Box 2-A, and Box 2-B all at Courthouse in Little Courtroom, Ward 3 will vote at City Hall.
Box 4-A and 4-B at Hope Youth Center Building.

Whenever we consider experts at their worst we think about our friend "Hardluck Joe." Joe isn't really an expert, but he thinks that he is. He tries to play the way he thinks an expert would play.

We watched Joe operate recently. His four-heart call was a mild overbid, but Joe always overbids when he is going to be declarer. He ruffed the club opening and played out his ace and king of trumps. This accounted for all four enemy trumps and left Joe in control.

"Watch me finesse all around them!" he chortled. Then he led a spade to dummy's 10 and East's jack. Back came another club. Joe ruffed and proceeded to lose another spade finesse. This time East returned a diamond. Joe played low and a third finesse lost to West's queen. Since the ace of diamonds was still out another rubber game missed by one trick.

"I ought to quit bridge!" moaned Joe. "Three finesesses out of three wrong."

"Yes, you should," said North. "When you are sure of your contract without finessing, why finesse?"

North was right. When trumps broke 2-2 Joe was certain to make his contract if he didn't go after overtricks. His correct play was to lay down his king of diamonds. It just might pluck a singleton queen for an overtrick. In this case West would win with his ace.

If he shifted to a spade, Joe would finesse the queen. East would win with his king. Now he could do anything he pleased, except defeat the contract. If East led the spade jack dummy would win with the ace, making his 10 good.

Any other lead and Joe would have time to knock out the diamond queen and discard one of dummy's spades on the fourth diamond.

THE DOCTOR SAYS Housewife Has Role In Water Pollution

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Much has been written on the increasing menace of water pollution but very little on what the average housewife can do about it. Since household detergents are an important source of pollution, a great deal of attention has been focused on ways of decreasing their harmful effects. About four years ago the alkyl benzene sulfonate in detergents was replaced by linear alkylate sulfonate. This substitution greatly reduced the amount of foaming in sewage.

Now several local organizations have launched campaigns urging housewives to replace detergents high in phosphate with others of low-phosphate content. Studies have shown beyond a doubt that phosphates, an important ingredient of fertilizers, stimulate the growth of algae, a low form of plant life, to the detriment of fish and other forms of aquatic animal life. This is because, as the dead algae decompose, the water loses its dissolved oxygen. Much of the blame for the killing of Lake Erie stems from this source.

Lists, showing the phosphate content of various brands of detergent are available from Northwestern Students for a Better Environment, Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill. 60201 or from ECO Bulletin, Rodale Press, Emmaus, Pa. 18049.

Q—What is Ritalin given for? Is it harmful to take it for a prolonged period? Is it sold under any other trade name?

A—This drug is given as a stimulant to persons who are convalescing or are debilitated, to victims of narcolepsy or depression and to children who are overactive. It should be taken only under medical supervision and should be used with caution by anyone with high blood pressure. The drug by itself is not sold under any other trade name—only in combination with other drugs.

Rioting May Cost 18-Year-Olds a Vote

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The recent outbreaks of campus violence may have endangered one of the students' prized goals—lowering the voting age to 18.

With a House vote on the 18-year-old vote due next month, sponsors are worried a backlash effect may be building as anti-war sentiment continues to disrupt the colleges.

There is also concern the strongly anti-Nixon stance of the protesting students will make it harder to pick up the 40 or so Republican votes needed to pass the measure.

"I'd have to say it's going to be tougher now," said Rep. Tom Rallsback, R-Ill., who is leading the effort to build House Republican support for the bill.

Rep. Abner J. Mikva, D-Ill., a Democrat working actively for the measure, shares Rallsback's concern. "Before all this," Mikva said, "studies showed that the students weren't in anybody's bag. In states where there is a lower voting age, they haven't changed the voting patterns much. But now Mr. Nixon has good reason to believe they are against him."

President Nixon already has come out against the Senate-passed bill, which calls for lowering the voting age by federal statute. Nixon has said it should be done by constitutional amendment.

House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford is supporting the President's position, which makes Rallsback's job even tougher. Mikva said the 40 necessary Republican votes were in hand a few days ago, but there is some doubt about the GOP support now.

The backlash effect of student demonstrations and riots can be seen in letters coming into the House Judiciary Committee.

A man in Hackensack, N.J., said no country where students have political power is in very good shape, and a man in St. Louis wrote, "The past week has shown to the nation the irresponsibility and the lack of making qualified judgments by the students of this country."

On the other side, the mass of students crowding the Capitol corridors the past several days, lobbying for various antiwar amendments, have made a good impression on Congress.

Many have had their hair cut. They are neatly dressed, courteous and orderly, and show a keen awareness of what is going on.

"They have behaved in an exemplary fashion," said Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., who, as chairman of the Judiciary Committee, will handle the age-vote bill on the floor.

"They have shown their interest in politics and their belief in the democratic process by coming here," Celler said. "It would be a devastating blow if they were to be rejected now."

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — A 16-year-old black youth has been arrested and is being held in connection with the shooting death of a Savannah official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, police said today.

Capt. E. J. Weaver said the youth had not been charged pending further investigation. He said a gun believed used in the slaying has been recovered.

The victim, James M. Floyd, 57, had been shot once in the chest. Floyd was a life member of the NAACP's Savannah Chapter and a long-time resident of Savannah.

Earlier, police said they had ruled out robbery as a motive because Floyd had money in his pockets.

Local NAACP officials could not be reached for comment.

W. W. Law, president of the local NAACP chapter, said Floyd had been working Tuesday night in the office, located in an area of town where there are frequent robberies and muggings.

Floyd was employed as a maintenance man for an apartment complex.

Industrial Loan to Fort Smith

Parents of Pilot Slain in Cambodia Defend President

HONOLULU (AP) — Hours after learning their soldier son had been killed in Cambodia, Edmund and Wattie Mae Hedemann cabled President Nixon: "If we could help you make others realize that your decision is right, we stand ready to serve you."

The Hedemanns learned of their son Wayne's death the same day the local newspapers published a letter from him that said: "With this attack, Nixon is getting my vote in the next election."

Hedemann, 24, a helicopter copilot, was Hawaii's first casualty of the Cambodia campaign. He was killed May 13 while flying a combat mission.

His father, commenting Tuesday on his cable to the President, urged a reporter to "tell them—tell them all—his parents are not going to quit. Good citizens must get together and do something about how they feel."

"My son was a good American," he said. "He backed his President, it didn't make any difference if he was a Democrat or Republican."

In his last letter to his mother, Wayne wrote: "Mom, I hope everyone back home is for Nixon. Because this should have been done three years ago."

Mrs. Hedemann in recent weeks had been busy traveling between her Hawaii Island home and Honolulu, where she urged state legislators to reverse their stand against the move into Cambodia.

Both houses had passed resolutions opposing the Cambodian action.

Mrs. Hedemann said her son had had doubts and moments of confusion about policies in Southeast Asia, but in recent weeks his letters had shown full support of Nixon.

"If this had happened two months ago I would be bitter," she said. "But now I know my son believed in what he was doing."

Faubus served six two-year terms beginning in 1955, retiring in January 1967 when Rockefeller began the first of his two terms. Rockefeller has not announced his intention to run for a third term.

Faubus said he expected much opposition in the primary to be "financed and guided by the great fortune that now controls Arkansas." He said vast sums would be spent to defeat the Democratic nominee in the general election.

Faubus said he was not "the perfect candidate" and would be happy to withdraw if one is found, but he said he knew of none.

Faubus to Run for Governor

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Former Gov. Orval E. Faubus announced today that he was coming out of political retirement to seek a seventh term as governor of Arkansas.

Faubus told a news conference that with enough help he could overcome "the moneyed political machine" of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller that the former governor said had "fastened its hold upon the state."

13th Allied Front Opens in Search of Last Sanctuary

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A leading Senate critic of the administration's Indochina policy says there remains hope for a compromise in the fight over limiting President Nixon's range of action in Cambodia.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Tuesday "some sort of an accommodation" might still be reached in the struggle over an attempt to cut off funds for U.S. military operations in Cambodia.

In spite of Mansfield's statement, there has been no indication the White House intends to back off from its stand that, as commander in chief, the President has the unrestricted right to use American troops as he did in sending U.S. ground forces into Cambodia.

Administration supporters, apparently outnumbered if the issue came down to the show-down stage, have sufficient numbers to keep the debate going for a long time—possibly right up to the June 30 date set by President Nixon for withdrawal of the U.S. force currently in Cambodia.

"There are a lot of us who want to discuss this pretty thoroughly," Sen. Gordon Allott of Colorado told reporters Tuesday, but added "I'm not talking in terms of a filibuster."

"We'll just debate as long as we have to to help educate the public," he said.

Earlier in the day, Mansfield pointed out that if opponents of the fund-cutout proposal, sponsored by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, were to win, it would mean the end of U.S. military operations in Cambodia.

The regulation also restricts "cents off" promotions to a one-month duration and a maximum of three in a 12-month period.

"That provision does not provide any protection for the consumer at all," said Rosenthal.

"No manufacturer goes into the store to see if the retailer is selling the product as he should," Rosenthal said.

Rosenthal said the FTC would have been better off proposing the regulations under its power to ban deceptive practices.

But an FTC spokesman said the Fair Packaging Act specifically directed the agency to issue regulations under the act and specified that they be directed at manufacturers.

Corporations have provided specialists to train such men on military bases, with the companies footing most of the bill.

Week-End Fair, With Hint of Rain

The U.S. Weather Bureau is predicting "fishing weather" for the remainder of the week, with fair skies and warmer temperatures.

However, clouds will develop this weekend with the possibility of scattered showers this weekend.

Highs Tuesday ranged from 89 at Jonesboro and Little Rock to 83 at Fayetteville and Harrison.

Overnight lows were Fayetteville, 54; Harrison, 55; Jonesboro, 56; Pine Bluff, 63; Texarkana, 62; El Dorado, 60; Memphis, 62; Little Rock, 55; and Fort Smith, 62.

No precipitation was recorded during the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today.

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — Charles Hodges, 31, of Paragould was charged Tuesday with kidnaping and assault with intent to rape.

Hodges is accused of Monday's alleged abduction of Rita Scott, 17, a pupil at Rector High School. Authorities said she was forced at gunpoint into a car at Crowley's Ridge State Park while she was on a high school outing.

Police said Miss Scott escaped later by jumping from a moving auto. Hodges is in jail at Walnut Ridge.

Police Check on 2 Auto Accidents

Hope Police Dept. investigated two accidents Tuesday, the first at 10:30 a.m. at 6th street and the L & A railroad tracks, where a car driven by Robert Crews of Hope was hit by some iron pipe which fell from a truck driven by Lawson Weaver of Lewisville. There was considerable damage to the hood and windshield of the Crews car. No charges were filed by Sgt. Reed Clark.

At 3:45 p.m. in Hope Village Shopping Center, a car driven by Mrs. Patricia Fuller of Hope backed into a car driven by Mrs. Lillie Wilson of Rt. 1 Emmet, causing minor damage. No charges were filed by City Officer Marvin Arterbury.

Summer School Outlined

Supt. James H. Jones indicated today that an extensive summer school program has been planned in district schools.

Head Start for pre-school children will be held at Brookwood Elementary School during the period of June 8 through July 31.

Approximately eighty pre-school 5-year-old children will be involved in this program.

The elementary summer school will involve only students from this year's first grade who have not made satisfactory progress in reading. These classes will be held at Beryl Henry Elementary School during the period of June 8 through July 17.

For the first time, a remedial summer session will be conducted for secondary pupils. This program will not be just for make-up credit work as instruction and the curriculum will be suited to each student's individual learning difficulty. Credit for make-up work may be earned by those participating in the classes.

The secondary division of the summer school program will be held at the High School facility during the period of June 15 through July 24.

Week-long inservice workshops for teacher orientations will be conducted for teachers prior to the dates indicated above. These workshops will be conducted by personnel from the Service Center at Magnolia and other out of district consultants.

Batesville Boy, 8, Drowns

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Gary Lynn Davis, 8, of near Bethesda (Independence County) drowned Tuesday while playing in a pond near his home. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davis of near Bethesda.

All Around Town

By The Star Staff
Fourteen Hope students will be among 403 candidates for degrees at spring commencement at Henderson State College May 22, Herschel Lucht, registrar, announced today.

The local candidates are J. Leland Lavenier, Jr., Bachelor of Arts; William Alfred Barber, Sandra Sue King, Ralph Thomas Rexroat, and John Rodney Billings, Bachelor of Science in Business Administration; Jimmy Warren England, Master of Science in Education.

Bachelor of Science in Education candidates are Louis Carl Jordan, Carole Bresler Lester, Andrea Anthony McMurryough, Elizabeth Irene O'Neal, Brenda Owens, Jane Ellen Smith, Tommy Lee Still, Judy Beth Samuels.

Wendel R. McCorkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil McCorkle of Hope, is listed as Associate Editor of the 1970 Scroll, yearbook at State College of Arkansas, which was distributed last week.

Sid McMath, Savings Bond chairman for Hempstead County, reported sales of $44,486 for the January-April 1970 period for 24 per cent of the county goal for the year.

There is a birthday celebration at Mrs. L.F. Higgason's house today, May 20. Her twin sister Mrs. Gaston Fulmer of Little Rock and Mrs. Guy Card of Hope are the celebrants, but all 6 sisters have been enjoying the day together. They include Mrs. H.S. Rowland of Idabel, Okla., Mrs. Ray Morrison of Pine Bluff, and Mrs. Owen Atkins of Hope.

Happy Birthday to the former Verda and Bertie Jones!

Southwest Arkansas Poultry Festival will be held at Nashville this year. The date is Saturday, May 23. Earl Whitaker, general chairman for the festival states that plans are complete for the biggest one in years. The Campbell sisters (of Glen, of course) will furnish the entertainment and Peggie Gathright will do the M.C. honors. There are already over 30 girls registered to enter the Poultry Princess contest and four will be chosen to go to the state finals.

Operation 10 Miles Inside Cambodia

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Thousands of South Vietnamese infantrymen opened a new front in Cambodia today, assaulting the last of the known North Vietnamese and Viet Cong sanctuaries near the border.

The South Vietnamese Defense Ministry said the operation was under way at least 10 miles inside Cambodia, west of the Bu Prang and Duc Lap Special Forces camps which North Vietnamese troops laid siege to last year. The area is opposite Vietnam's southern Central Highlands and about 125 miles northeast of Saigon.

It was the 13th allied front opened in Cambodia. The South Vietnamese infantrymen went in after massive raids by the U.S. Air Force's big B52 bombers.

U.S. helicopters began landing several thousand South Vietnamese infantrymen from the 23rd Division and their American advisers in the thickly jungle region. A U.S. spokesman said probably less than 100 advisers were taking part.

"There are no U.S. ground forces involved in the operation," the U.S. Command said, adding that U.S. support of the operation included "helicopter and logistics support, tactical air, artillery and advisers."

The drive was preceded by nearly 100 B52 raids along the border in the past four days to soften up the suspected North Vietnamese bunkers and gun positions.

The Defense Ministry announcement gave no indication whether the ground force had run into any opposition. Allied headquarters said it had no reports of enemy contact or other operational details yet.

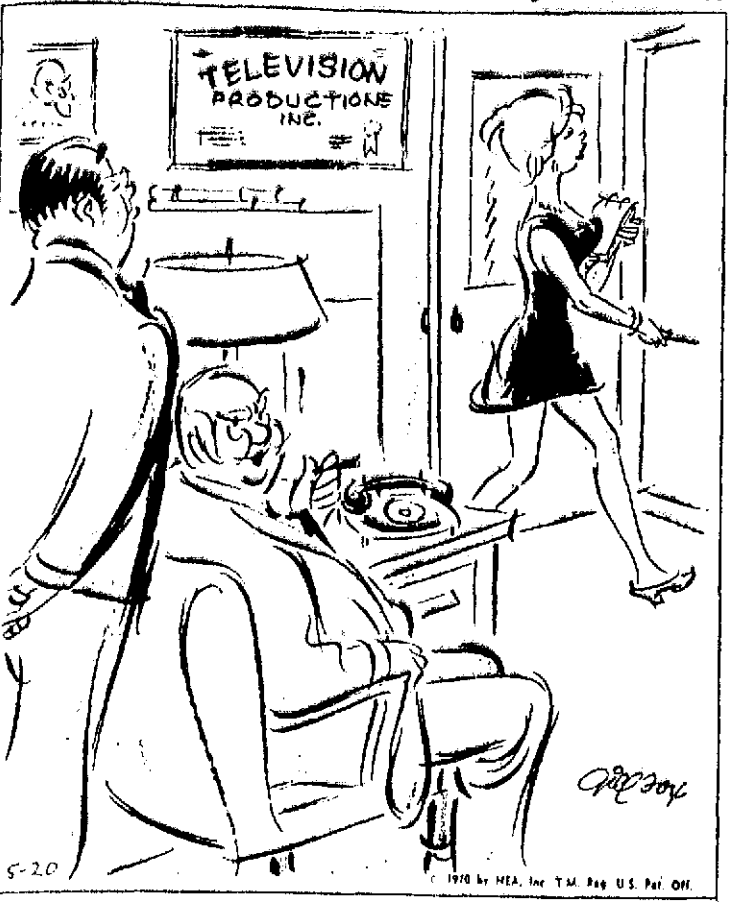

The new operation is an extension of the sweep which the South Vietnamese 22nd Infantry Division is making in the Se San area to the north of today's landing.
